*Currents: Currents are the notes that the note-taker will be taking this quarter.

**Archives: Archives are compilations of one quarter's notes. This quarter's currents may be turned into a future archive. Archives are kept until more recent currents that are offered for this class under the same professor replace them, or until the professor asks that we get rid of the archive.

*** Please note: If you agree to have tests sold in currents or archives, these tests will be accessible to anyone.
